Break down in the bridges of communication

BY ADAM GRINSELL
adam.grinsell@mk-news.co.uk

CONFUSION over an email sent by the council's chief excecutive led to repair work to Secklow Gate bridge being stopped.

An internal audit report, published last week, also reveals a host of other errors and sets out 17 'learning opportunities' for Milton Keynes Council.

The report, which follows a review ordered by chief executive David Hill, says a decision to proceed with repairs to the city centre bridge, damaged by a fire in January 2010, was originally made on September 22 that year.

But five days later, assistant director of planning, Nick Fenwick, asked if demolishing the bridge and redeveloping the area, in line with the council's guide to the future development of the city, had been considered.

This option, which could have created the opportunity for development linked to thecemtre:mk, had not been considered until this point.

This led to Mr Hill sending an e-mail stating a decision should not be made 'until the implications are clearer'.

The meaning of this comment was not questioned by officers and those involved in the repairs stopped work – something Mr Hill stated in an interview he did not mean to happen.

It was not until March 3 this year, five months later, that he learned his comments had been interpreted as an instruction to stop work.

The report also states Mr Hill spoke about the future of the bridge to the shopping centre, which confirmed it was considering submitting a planning application.

It adds 'the assumption a planning application would be forthcoming and confusion over who was progressing this led to a six month delay'.

As previously reported by MK NEWS, the cost of keeping the bridge closed was expected to cost £631,794 – almost three times the original minimum estimated repair cost of £215,000.

This was partly due to the cost of propping it up, which came to around £30,000 a month. The investigation has now revealed the expected costs to date run to £1,027,691.29.

However, the overall costs of the project have yet to be revealed, as the council does not want to prejudice the outcome of any insurance claim.

The report, which will be presented to the audit committee on Tuesday, highlights many other delays with the project, saying some 'were avoidable'.

A council spokesman said: "We have already fully accepted there were errors made during the period of the bridge closure, the main problem being it was not identified as a specific project early on and managed in line with our required approach. Had it been it would have been subject to the usual checks and balances, such as regular updates on ongoing costs and timescales for repair.

"A statement will be issued to the audit committee by the council's corporate leadership team that sets out the actions taken by them in response to the report, and apologises to all those who were adversely affected by the unnecessary delay in commissioning the repair of the bridge.

"We will be carrying out a detailed inquiry to find out why the project approach was not properly applied and will take appropriate managerial action on the findings."

Anthony Ross, spokesman for thecentre:mk's joint owners, said: "We are constantly reviewing opportunities to improve the shopping experience for guests at thecentre:mk. We have always taken an interest in the land surrounding the centre as part of this ongoing review."

Footballers given chance to net qualifications

THE cream of the city's young football talent are being given the chance to combine the beautiful game with their studies in the classroom.

A new two-year sports science course at MK College allows elite young footballers to specialise in the sport and earn valuable qualifications at the same time.

Mark Walsh, coach at the college's Football Academy, described the course as a 'fantastic opportunity' for talented teenagers.

"It means promising young players are getting the skills they need to play for semi-professional or professional teams, but also the educational qualifications to give them other career options," he said.

"Young players can end up on the scrapheap, their confidence shot, if they don't make the grade at some big football clubs' academies or if they get injured. We give them another chance."

When they are not training or playing competitive matches, the players will be studying for the BTEC extended diploma, which is the equivalent of three A-levels.

The squad were in action during the college's first ever pre-season tournament last week, where they finished third after competing against top college teams from across the UK.

Dad will camp out to support charities

Canvassing for support: Daniel Thompson will be eating and sleeping outside his house for six months

BY ADAM GRINSELL
adam.grinsell@mk-news.co.uk

WHEN you are tucked up warm in bed through the cold winter months, spare a thought for poor Daniel Thompson.

The father-of-three will be braving the elements and camping outside his house - for six months.

In aid of two charities, Daniel, 32, will be sleeping and eating in his tent outside the front of his house in Peartree Bridge.

He will be camping from September 30 throughout the coldest months of the year and during the day he will be cycling to different charity shops across the region.

He said: "The idea came to me after after I went on a little camp for four days and I decided I could raise money for my causes by doing it.

"It sounds outrageous, but I thought it would be a good way to raise money to do it through the winter."

Daniel's first chosen charity is literally close to his heart - he has had a defibrillator since he was 16 due to a lifelong condition.

He says the British Heart Foundation has helped him so much through the years that he wanted to give something back.

Secondly, he will be raising money for Cancer Research UK following the death of his father, Brian, last year and other members of his family over the years, including his nan.

He hopes to not only raise money for the cancer charity, but to increase awareness of the support available to families.

He said: "I think I'll find it tough for the six months, but I've got support all the way from my children and my wife, who has helped me organise it.

"I've not gone on any survival courses or anything, my preparation is from what I've done and seen on the telly, but I'm quite a good cook anyway."

Daniel will be recording and blogging on his experience.

Those who want to follow him, or donate to his causes, can visit www.justgiving.com/daniel-thompson0, or search Cantenthead Heart on Facebook.

Steps are taken to get rid of troubled play area

COUNCILLORS have taken steps towards having a troubled city play area dismantled, but not everybody is happy about it.

The site in Far Holme, near Southside Lane in Middleton, was closed in March following claims of antisocial behaviour.

Milton Keynes Council received 23 letters from residents who wanted the play area removed, but five more were received from people who want it reopened.

Conservative councillor John Bint put forward a motion calling for the play area to be taken down at Thursday's Development Control Committee meeting.

It was agreed that council officers would approach the site's owners, developers Crest Nicholson, to ask them to approve removing the site.

And the council's cabinet will also explore the possibility of the authority adopting the area so it could dismantle the park itself.

Plans for historic building opposed

Redevelopment plans: Lloyds Court in Central Milton Keynes

BY DAN PALMER
dan.palmer@mk-news.co.uk

REDEVELOPMENT plans for a historic building have been given the thumbs down by groups which work to preserve the city's heritage.

A design brief of proposed work at Lloyds Court, the first building to be completed in CMK, was put before councillors on Thursday and opponents successfully blocked it from being approved.

Plans for a much larger building to replace Lloyds Court are on the table but for the objectors this would mean an unacceptable erosion of part of MK's history.

Several people waited until 2.30am for the issue to be heard.

Linda Inoki, of city pressure group Xplain, said: "It envisages replacing Lloyds Court with a much bigger building that takes over most of the existing car parking spaces, reaches up to Secklow Gate, and even expands into the green frame landscaped area at the back of North Row.

"This could open the floodgates to building on the green frame."

Theo Chalmers, of Urban Eden, who was also at the meeting added that he could see the development turning into 'another Hub'.

And CMK town councillor David Stabler said that it was the first time that an original CMK building faced demolition.

He said: "Physically, the site comes complete with an established, adaptable building, with transport, access, utilities and parking. All these services are in place and working well."

Councillors agreed to defer the design brief so changes can be made and groups such as Urban Eden and Xplain have become consultees.

Neil Sainsbury, the council's principal urban designer, had defended the brief, arguing that MK needs 'striking buildings because we're a go-ahead city.'

MKNEWS BRIEFS

Lorry park on the cards

THE councillor in charge of transport, John Bint, is discussing the possible provision of a lorry park in the east of the city with officers at Milton Keynes Council.

This has been welcomed by Lib Dem opposition leader Cllr Sam Crooks, who has been pushing for one after complaints from residents. A report is expected 'at the earliest opportunity'.

Landlord fined £1,500

A LANDLORD has been left £2,000 out of pocket after failing to make basic repairs to one of his properties in Milton Keynes.

On Friday, Mohammed Nurul Hussain pleaded guilty to three offences with regards to the house in Fishermead Boulevard. He was fined £500 for each offence, and ordered to pay costs of £449.69.

Free parking returns to city

FREE parking has been reinstated to some parts of the city centre following a review.

Following changes in January which removed all free 'green' spaces and introduced almost 1,000 more premium rate 'red' spaces, a review into how the spaces were being used was carried out by Milton Keynes Council over the summer.

On Monday, 859 premium rate spaces were removed.

Of those, 169 will revert to being free, while the remaining 690 will be changed to 'purple' standard rate bays.

Sixty-one free spaces are now available outside the Food Hall, and 108 outside Xscape.

The other changes were made outside the magistrates' court and the council's Civic Offices, as well as in North 10th Street and North 12th Street.

A council spokesman said: "These changes have been made because we identified some under occupied areas of premium parking."

Hopes for nursery's future

A SPECIAL meeting was held by a parish council on Monday to discuss how it might be able to help save one of its local nurseries.

The Milton Keynes Council-run Little Chestnuts nursery in Bletchley is facing closure or transferral to a private provider as part of money-saving proposals.

This has caused outrage among parents and councillors, so West Bletchley Council met to discuss ways it could help the nursery possibly transfer to Chestnuts School next door, including financial support.

Cllr Liz Campbell said: "West Bletchley Council has agreed to provide administrative support and expertise to the school and parents in producing a business plan to keep the nursery open as a community resource."

Let's give the kids somewhere to go

SIR - There were two stories in last week's paper about play areas for young people being moved, halted or dismantled as a result of concerns expressed by local residents about antisocial behaviour. ('Ding dong over ping-pong table' and 'Troubled play area could be removed').

It seems to me that this is simply avoiding the root cause of the problem and that is that little imagination or investment is being made in the provision of appropriate facilities for young teenagers.

These young people are the children of residents in the area - so what discussions have been held to decide what facilities should be provided? Have the young people been spoken to? Have their parents?

Unless this is done all that will happen is that the young people concerned will move to another unsuitable play area, hang out at the local centre or in nearby underpasses.

In other words the 'problem' will just move and another group of residents will complain. What happens then? Constructive solutions are needed - and needed quickly because dismantling play areas is not the answer.

Paul Griffiths

Facilities needed to keep young active

SIR - Not all of the Middleton residents want the play park shut down ('Troubled play area could be removed').

Milton Keynes Council has a responsibility to provide facilities for our kids to play in and this park is perfect for the area.

If the antisocial behaviour had been dealt with at the time, instead of the hysterical reaction we saw from some of the residents, this issue would have gone away.

The temporary closure of the park has been respected since April, showing that interest in the area has gone away for those teenagers who originally caused the problems.

There are also five new parks in Broughton, including a skate park, that have become the parks of choice for most local teenagers.

In an age of child obesity and increased antisocial behaviour, do we really want to start removing children's play facilities at the very first sign of trouble?

We will not give in without a fight.

Thanks to the man who helped horse

SIR - I am looking to thank a man who helped to rescue a galloping horse on the old A421 last Tuesday at around 8 or 9am.

Myself and the owner of this horse were so caught up in the moment of getting hold of the horse that we did not get his name so we could thank him correctly.

He was a real hero of the day for both me and the owner, as if the horse had carried on galloping towards the M1 it may have been a different story.

All the information I have about this man is that he had a polo shirt with Luton something on, and drove, I believe, a Ford Mondeo.

There was joint team work, with the owner warning the traffic ahead and me, this man (with me hanging out to try and pull the horse to stop) and the driver trying to hold on to the horse while driving.

The man stayed with us in the layby until we had the horse settled and called the police and transport to take her home.

The land where time has stood still

MILTON Keynes needs a fit and healthy population if it is to be taken seriously as a place for companies to relocate to.

And while the fitness industry might appear to be booming around the city, there is one small forgotten club where time has stood still.

With its overgrown foliage and boarded up windows, the health club formerly known as Dolphin Splashdown is now an eerie monument to health clubs gone bad.

Originally hailed as 'the most spectacular such centre in the whole country', early plans for the centre included:

- A 'giant sized pool with mirrored walls'
- A 'fizzing champagne pool'
- A 'gentle pool and boisterous area'
- A state-of-the-art fitness club, cafe and bar

After a false start, there followed a generous £1million cash injection from Milton Keynes Council, £3.5million from developers Splashdown MK Ltd and the multi-million pound gift of land from Milton Keynes Development Corporation, the project found its legs again.

A new launch date of May 1992 was now on the table and a spokesman said: "We are having two flume rides, nine meters high, a beach area and a lazy river."

But Bryan Jones, then Milton Keynes Borough Council's assistant director of recreation, couldn't wait.

Overgrown: Dolphin Splashdown

He said: "I'm looking forward to it being completed - I've been promised first go down the slide".

And so Shenley Church End was blessed with a brick and steel 'spider' building that resembles a forgotten horror movie set buried beneath the undergrowth at the junction of Burchard Crescent and Watling Street.

The future of the site, renamed 'Bourton Mill', was to have been discussed at a regeneration meeting in May 2011.

It is unknown if Bryan Jones fulfilled his lifelong dream of being first down the slide.

Proud: Former Royal Anglian Ronald Clements with his new Armed Forces Veterans' Badge certificate

Veteran is honoured with new MoD badge

A PROUD armed forces veteran has received another honour to add to his wall - and says he is pleased those who used to serve are still being remembered.

Sixty-five-year-old Ronald Clements, from Beanhill, was recently awarded the Armed Forces Veterans' Badge from the Ministry of Defence for his time in service with the Royal Anglian Regiment in places like Aden and Ireland.

He said, with everything happening in Afghanistan and Libya, it is easy to forget those who used to serve.

"I'm chuffed with it," he said, "because they are very inclined to forget the past.

"I've got the greatest respect for the soldiers now, but there's too much emphasis on what's going on now and not the past."

Firm is fined for causing a stink

BY ADAM GRINSELL
adam.grinsell@mk-news.co.uk

A FARMING firm has been left more than £27,000 out of pocket after breaching orders to restrict the spreading of 'nauseating and gut-wrenching' chicken manure, which caused a city-wide stink.

Milton Keynes magistrates were told last Wednesday how more than 150 complaints were made over a three day period in September last year, relating to spreading being carried out by Fullers Farming Ltd.

The odour affected residents in Kingsmead, Oxley Park and Westcroft, but could be smelled right across Milton Keynes.

After a three day trial, Fullers Farming, of Winslow, was convicted of breaching an Abatement Notice and causing a Statutory Nuisance, by spreading the manure at Bottlehouse Farm, near Kingsmead.

It was fined £10,000 and ordered to pay Milton Keynes Council's costs of £17,181.34.

Magistrates were told there was an incident in August 2009, when chicken manure was spread on the same farm with the wind blowing the smell towards the city. The council served an Abatement Notice, prohibiting a repeat of the smell and requiring the firm to follow conditions, including that it should not spread smelly material if the wind was blowing toward the city.

But from September 13-16, 2010, Fullers Farming breached the notice, producing smells lasting for a week which residents described as 'nauseating', 'gut-wrenching', and 'vomit inducing', forcing people to close all their windows and doors.

Review leads to parking charge

PARKING outside John Lewis in the city centre is no longer free.

On Monday, drivers had to start paying £1.20 per hour.

A spokesman for thecentre:mk, which owns the car park, said: "thecentre:mk recently reviewed the usage of car parks surrounding the shopping centre.

"The John Lewis car park, with only 427 spaces, was the only free area within the premium zone and as such was under considerable pressure with the frequent problem of shoppers queuing for spaces, often occupied by city workers taking advantage of free parking intended for guests.

"We have set charges for this car park at premium rate, in keeping with council charges for parking spaces within CMK."

Call for cut in cops' red tape

A CITY MP wants to know how police officers can be freed from red tape to spend more time on the streets.

Last Monday, Mark Lancaster, MP for Milton Keynes North, asked Policing and Criminal Justice Minister Nick Herbert what the Government was doing to reduce the burden of health and safety rules on officers.

Mr Herbert replied that the Government has issued new guidance for police, and appealed for a 'commonsense approach' to the regulations.

Mr Lancaster said, as a bomb disposal officer with the Territorial Army, he empathised with officers delayed from doing their dangerous jobs by a 'mountain of paper work'.

Trio sentenced for selling fakes

THREE people who netted more than £80,000 from selling fake designer clothing, electric toothbrushes and razor blades have been spared jail.

Anna Iwanicka, 30, Robert Tomasz Dziekanowski, 37, both of Khasiaberry, Walnut Tree, and Dorota Iwanicka, 27, of Culrain Place, Hodge Lea, were sentenced at Aylesbury Crown Court on Friday after pleading guilty to buying the goods from China and selling them on eBay.

They each received nine months in prison, suspended for two years, and 300 hours unpaid work after making £83,000.

Fall out over bid to stop smoking

BY ADAM GRINSELL
adam.grinsell@mk-news.co.uk

THE proposed smoking ban in Stony Stratford has resulted in a fall out among the town's councillors.

The motion to discuss the ban has now been postponed by Councillor Paul Bartlett, who came up with the idea, as he feels the meeting should be broadcast for those not able to make it.

But this would be in contravention of the council's rules, or standing orders, and is something which he would like changed, but he believes the chairman of the council, Rob Gifford, is using this to 'censor' the meeting.

He has now motioned for a vote of no confidence in Cllr Gifford, which was due to be heard at a meeting last night.

Cllr Bartlett said: "I'm getting annoyed with the council and with Rob Gifford in particular.

"I'm withdrawing the smoking ban motion, because I've put in a vote of no confidence in the chairman and there's an issue with broadcasting.

"I think people are trying to put obstacles in my way.

"They don't want the thing to be debated at all. These are silly things that are getting too much now and we need to have confidence in our chairman."

Cllr Gifford declined to comment on the motion, other than to say Cllr Bartlett was entitled to put such an item on the agenda.

But following his motion, another of Cllr Bartlett's fellow councillors, Cllr Richard Skellington, asked for a similar vote against him.

To find out what happened, visit www.mk-news.co.uk today.

The smoking ban meeting is expected to be held in January.

Parking win after review

THEY were being driven mad by parked cars blocking up their roads.

But now residents in Conniburrow are celebrating after winning a campaign to have parking restrictions imposed on their streets.

In April, we reported how people living there claimed the new city centre parking charges were forcing workers and shoppers into residential streets, making their lives a misery as they were finding it very difficult to park.

They also said that the situation was an accident waiting to happen and were worried emergency vehicles would not be able to reach houses.

But following a review, Milton Keynes Council has now implemented a free residents' permit scheme on certain roads in the estate, as well as in Bradwell Common.

Denise Wittman, who lives in Cleavers Avenue, said: "I'm ecstatic about it, it's fantastic.

"It means being able to park in our own area, and there will be a thoroughfare for lorries.

"Just so long as people realise this isn't a car park."

Victory: Denise Wittman with parish councillor Pauline Wallis and daughter Shiralee

'Slave' woman charged

A fifth person has been charged with slavery offences following a raid on a caravan site in Leighton Buzzard. Josie Connors, 30, has been charged with two counts of conspiracy to commit offences of holding people in servitude, and two of requiring people to perform forced labour. She was released on bail and is due to appear at Luton Magistrates' Court tomorrow.

Dons will raise cash for city hospice

ONE of the city's favourite charities has announced it has partnered with MK Dons.

Willen Hospice was chosen by the club after the Football League's selection of Help the Hospices as its official charity partner for this season.

The club will raise awareness and funds and have dedicated two home games, Notts County on October 1 and Exeter on March 10, as collection days.

The hospice will also attend the club's Family Fun Day on October 22.

Garages are getting a lick of paint

A PAINTING programme for garages in Bletchley is underway after requests from residents.

Garages in Essex Close, Whaddon Way, Middlesex Drive and Neath Crescent are all on the list, but Labour West Bletchley parish councillor Mick Legg wants to see more done.

He said: "The lighting in some sites must be addressed and where sites are derelict they should be used to build new council bungalows."

He is also calling for a rent reduction on resident garages.

Paediatric report: Lisa Beaumont has responded to the CQC

Taking action on child care

BY ADAM GRINSELL
adam.grinsell@mk-news.co.uk

MILTON Keynes Hospital has responded to a national health watchdog after it found problems in the paediatric services being offered.

The Care Quality Commission (CQC) reported last Wednesday that it had found nurses in the A&E and operating department recovery area were not always trained to the correct levels.

It also found that there was no dedicated high-dependency unit for children at the hospital.

Lisa Beaumont, general manager of women and children's services, said she wasn't surprised by the findings as they were areas the hospital was already aware of and is working on.

She said: "We had two weeks to respond with an action plan, which we have already done, and it will be completed by the end of February.

"We are working on a dedicated high-dependency unit and we are recruiting more trained nurses."

Ms Beaumont stressed that the paediatric department nurses are all fully trained, but it was in other areas where children are cared for, such as A&E, where they want to recruit.

Only last year, CQC restrictions on the hospital's maternity service were lifted following problems there.

Ms Beaumont said: "This report is completely unrelated to maternity and I think that's important for the public to know."

Asked whether budget restrictions on the NHS, which needs to save £20billion, were having an effect on services, Ms Beaumont added: "Budget restrictions have never and will never restrict the quality of care we give."

Mum campaigns for a meningitis vaccine

BY ADAM GRINSELL
adam.grinsell@mk-news.co.uk

A YOUNG mother whose son had to have open heart surgery as a result of meningitis is championing a campaign for a vaccine.

Leon Humphries, six, contracted meningococcal septicaemia when he was 18 months old, and just hours later he had fallen into a coma, which lasted a week.

For the next three-and-a-half years he remained on medication, sometimes five times a day, until his operation last summer when doctors found the disease had rotted one of his valves.

Mum Catherine Barker, 29, from Wolverton, said: "It was really difficult, especially when he was on the medication.

Catherine Barker and Leon Humphries

"Every time he had to take it, I was reminded he wasn't normal."

Leon will now be in and out of hospital for the rest of his life, but following the operation he is making a good recovery and life is returning to normal.

Miss Barker added: "He's getting really well now - if you see him, you wouldn't think he'd been through that, he's a strong boy."

But she says he is one of the lucky ones as one in ten die from the virus, while others lose limbs or get brain damage.

So she is now supporting Meningitis Research Foundation's campaign calling on the Government to push for a vaccine.

She said: "We are hoping to raise awareness and hopefully a bit more money to support the research."

Last year, Miss Barker raised £2,000 with her Music for Meningitis Event, which will take place again this year on November 18.

To find out more information about the campaign, visit www.meningitis.org.

A great help: Residents at Lovat Fields can now use the number 300 bus

Back on the buses

BY ADAM GRINSELL
adam.grinsell@mk-news.co.uk

GRATEFUL residents at a city retirement village are celebrating after getting their bus stop added to an express route which previously bypassed their homes.

People living at Lovat Fields in Willen Park say their lives will now be much easier, thanks to the decision to allow the number 300 bus to stop at the shelters immediately outside the retirement village.

In November, MK NEWS spoke to residents who spent two years campaigning to get the bus to stop there, as three drove past every hour without stopping.

And last Sunday they finally got their wish.

Tony Clarke, 71, said: "I've got chronic diabetes and use a walking stick, and the idea of having to get several buses to the train or coach station wasn't nice.

"We have family in London, so to be able to get to the coach or train station easily does help a lot, you don't know how much."

A council spokesman said: "The 300 route is an express route to the city centre which includes the new Coachway and Magna Park, and that's why we initially limited the number of stops for this service. We have now reconsidered following requests from residents at Lovat Fields and are happy to say that the service will now stop at this point."

Restaurant has the guide to good food

Honour: Taipan manager Bryan Siew with a copy of this year's The Good Food Guide

BY ADAM GRINSELL
adam.grinsell@mk-news.co.uk

AN ORIENTAL restaurant has the prestigious honour of being named in this year's The Good Food Guide - and is the only one in the city to be featured.

Taipan restaurant, in the Theatre District in CMK, appears in this year's edition, released on September 8.

Eateries cannot pay or apply to be in the guide, which recognises the best restaurants from across the country - instead, customers recommend or submit reviews to the writers, who then pay anonymous visits and rate their experiences.

Owner Thomas Yam is delighted with the appearance in the book.

"We were told by our customers," he said. "They told us even before we got the e-mail.

"They said we were lucky, but at first we didn't understand what they meant and we thought we had won some kind of lottery.

"My feelings about our inclusion are linked to the recent economy.

"You see the 'to let' signs in all the office space and people used to ask me how we crack the economy, and I say we can only keep cooking better."

Mr Yam said his customers are the biggest compliment he receives, as his main visitors are those who have lived and worked in the far east and so know good oriental food. The restaurant even has customers who travel 45 minutes to eat there.

Manager Bryan Siew said inclusion in the guide is testament to the staff's hard work.

He said: "It's great because we all put in 100 per cent and make our customers the focus."

The dish included in the guide is beef brisket with turnips, but the restaurant's signature dish is squid with spicy salt and chilli.

Golf course homes plan hits the bunker

BY DAN PALMER
dan.palmer@mk-news.co.uk

CONTROVERSIAL plans for a housing development on a city golf course have been thrown out by councillors.

More than 500 people had signed a petition against the proposal for Windmill Hill golf course in Bletchley, and campaigners filled out the council chambers on Thursday night to hear the decision.

Traffic congestion, an increased flood risk and a loss of open space were concerns put forward by opponents of the plan, which also included a new smaller clubhouse, a driving range, landscaping and parking.

The clubhouse would have been positioned closer to homes than the current one is, so residents also raised noise fears.

But applicant Golf Course Management (GCM), the owners of the course, said the development would address financial problems.

Eight people spoke out against the plan at Thursday's Development Control Committee meeting.

Denbigh councillor Liz Campbell said people in Bletchley felt like their open space was 'under siege' and added that extra cars brought in by the development would exacerbate congestion problems.

She said: "There is a feeling that developers want to dig up all our open space."

Fellow Denbigh councillor Nigel Long added that noise was a 'major concern' with the clubhouse proposed for 55 metres away from existing homes.

Saying no: Protestors at Windmill Hill golf course

However Guy Graves, representing GCM, said the golf course, which would remain at 18 holes, was at risk of closure as it is running at a loss.

And he added that officials had not highlighted flooding or traffic concerns.

The committee, however, believed the residents' concerns to be valid and voted seven to one in favour of refusal.

Ruel hopes to have a freerunning gym

BY ADAM GRINSELL
adam.grinsell@mk-news.co.uk

TRAINERS who hold classes teaching a new sport are hoping to raise £300,000 for a purpose-built gym due to an increase in demand.

Parkour, otherwise known as freerunning, has quickly grown in popularity both in the UK and internationally over the last few years following increased publicity in films such as Casino Royale.

The sport, which sees the more daring participants jumping between buildings, involves performing tricks using walls, railings and other things found in the street, and so requires high levels of skill, athleticism and fitness.

MK Parkour (MKPK) is one of only a few organisations in the country teaching the sport, currently in Kingston and Shenley Church End.

Team leader Ruel DaCosta, 26, from Shenley Brook End, has been teaching it for six years, but says it is now becoming so popular he is having to turn people away.

"We had 65 people in one class last week," he said. "So I reckon we're up to around 300 people a week.

"We can't physically afford to rent more space - I'm being charged £100 per session."

In action: Ruel DaCosta

So now MKPK is looking to build a gym tailor-made for its needs.

"If we can create somewhere we can hold classes every day of the week, there's a lot more kids that we could reach," added Ruel.

He says if kids see the sport on TV they might be tempted to go out on the street and try it, potentially damaging themselves and property, and he is keen to keep them in a safe environment.

But the group needs funding and is hoping to raise the money through sponsorship.

Anyone who would like to help can visit www.mkpk.co.uk, or e-mail info@mkpk.co.uk.

THE fight to reintroduce unlimited free bus travel for elderly and disabled people will be taken to a full council meeting.

Free journeys were restricted to outside peak times following a budget decision made by Milton Keynes Council in March, but campaigners are now working hard to get this reversed.

Now, the issue will be discussed by councillors at a meeting in November.

The restriction originally came in under the council's previous Liberal Democrat administration, and it is hoped that the now ruling Conservatives will change the decision.

Local members of the Green Party are spearheading the campaign and have even brought in Keith Taylor, an MEP for the South East of England, to help champion the cause.

Doreen Webster, who walks with a walking frame, is one of those who has been affected by the decision to restrict bus travel.

The pensioner, from Bletchley, said: "I think it's disgusting that MK Council won't let us travel before 9.30am. I rely on the buses for all sorts of things that happen before 9.30am in the morning, like doctor's appointments. They're picking on vulnerable people and I'm glad that someone is finally standing up to them."

Mr Taylor, who has met with local residents to discuss their concerns, added that the decision was 'misguided'.

He said: "These cuts are a false economy, leading to only meagre savings to the council, but severely disrupting pensioners and disabled peoples' lives."

Over 700 people have signed a petition supporting the cause.

Here's one we grew earlier: Nicky Saunders, The Parks Trust's education co-ordinator, with pupils from Caroline Haslett Primary School and their giant sunflower

School shines in contest

A RECORD-BREAKING entry has won this year's search for the city's tallest sunflower.

Caroline Haslett Primary School in Shenley Lodge won The Parks Trust's annual competition, held between all primary and secondary schools in the city, with a 4.4-metre sunflower - the tallest ever recorded in the contest.

Tickford Park Primary School, Newport Pagnell, scooped second place with a sunflower measuring 2.85 metres, and St Monica's Primary School, in Neath Hill, came third with a 2.75m sunflower.

The winning school was awarded a variety of wildlife prizes, including a bird box with a digital camera and a specially commissioned trophy painting of a sunflower.

Ian Fergus, headteacher at Caroline Haslett, said: "We are delighted to have not only won the competition but also to have established a record.

"The bird box and camera will be going into our wild area and with luck the children will have the opportunity to take part in our very own Springwatch."

Jan to champion older generation

Champion: Former mayor Jan Lloyd

BY ADAM GRINSELL
adam.grinsell@mk-news.co.uk

A CHAMPION who will ensure the views of older people are considered in important meetings and consultations has been chosen.

Former mayor and current councillor for Eaton Manor, Jan Lloyd, was chosen at last Tuesday's full council meeting as the person to represent older people.

As part of a wider national scheme to ensure the voice of the older generation is heard, Jan, 67, was selected due to the work she has done previously around the borough.

She said: "It was a pensioners' association that first put me forward.

"I know some of them in the political sphere, and the other organisations involved in this seemed to think I would do.

"I've worked with a lot of people around the borough, being mayor helped I'm sure, as I'm known by more people than would otherwise have known me."

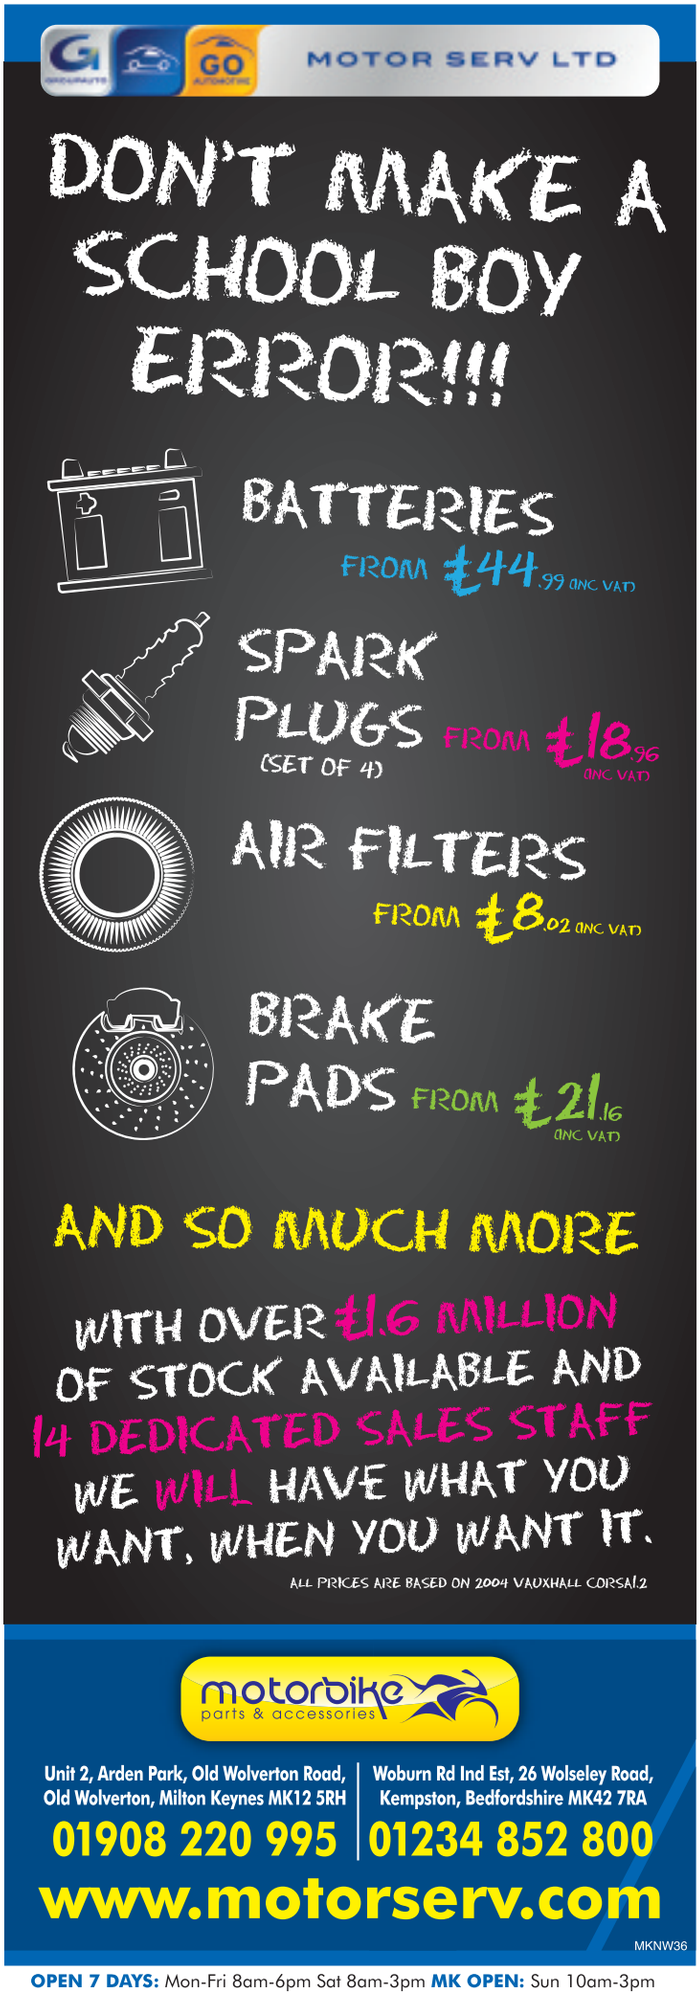
The official remit of the older persons' champion is to be 'an advocate for work to improve the health and wellbeing of those in later life within the boundaries of Milton Keynes Council'.

That's something another former mayor, Cllr Debbie Brock, cabinet member responsible for older people's services, thinks she is well qualified to do.

She said: "Jan has the experience, personality and reputation which make her ideal for this role."

Jan said that, although Milton Keynes has the image of a very new and vibrant city, it actually has a population which is increasing in age and says that should be fairly represented.

She added: "We've got young people's representatives, but this is to keep up with the change in the population, that's tipping towards older people."



Setting off: The intrepid team of Network Rail colleagues get ready for their charity cycle to York yesterday

All aboard for cycle ride to honour Roger

BY ADAM GRINSELL
adam.grinsell@mk-news.co.uk

WORKERS from Network Rail's current Milton Keynes office set off on a 160-mile bike ride in memory of one of their colleagues yesterday.

In 2009, Roger South was taking part in another charity bike ride, which took riders from Land's End to John O'Groats in ten days.

But he suffered a fall during the ride. He was rescued by the Great North Air Ambulance, but never recovered from his injuries and sadly passed away in March 2010.

He was due to move to Milton Keynes' new Network Rail Quadrant:MK national centre when it opens next year.

So now Lynsey O'Neil, Carl Jones, Zac Grief and Brian Mayo, who all work in the current Network Rail office at Central Milton Keynes railway station, have set off on the epic two-day ride in his memory.

They will be raising money for the Great North Air Ambulance.

The intrepid team set off from the office at 8am yesterday and were due to have an overnight stop in Newark last night.

Today they were expected to be joined by two more colleagues, Jim Kennel and Andy Spence, and are due to arrive in York late tonight.

Tomorrow, a train used by the Network Rail National Delivery Service, the department in which Roger and all the riders work, will be named in his honour.

A special ceremony for the naming will take place at the National Railway Museum in the city and will be attended by members of Roger's family and his colleagues.

There's no arm in trying wrestling

BY DAN PALMER
dan.palmer@mk-news.co.uk

COMPETITORS will hope to grunt and strain their way to glory on Saturday at a city armwrestling competition.

Cash prizes are up for grabs and those taking part will have one sole aim - pinning their opponent's arm to the table.

There will be three different amateur weight classes, less than 70kg, less than 90kg and over 90kg, so there's no chance of coming up against someone who is twice your size. A women's open class will be held as well if there is enough interest and anybody can take part.

Professional 'super matches' involving former British champions will also be part of the day so there is the chance to see some of the heavyweight names of armwrestling battling it out.

Ryan Finnerty, 'big' Stephen Sowah and 'Rambo' Rod Lynette are among the names who will be taking part.

Matt Preston, from Milton Keynes Armwrestling, said: "Despite the macho competitiong armwrestling is a really social sport and it'll be a fun and relaxing atmosphere.

Ready to rumble: Armwrestling will hit the city on Saturday

"There is an Olympic feel as it dates back to Ancient Greece."

Everyone taking part will receive training and a referee will stop any match that is deemed to have become dangerous.

The event is to take place at the Herald Sporting Club, in Millers Way, Wolverton, and there is a £10 entry fee.

Weigh-in will take place between 11am and noon, with the competition then running between 12.30 and 6pm. The event is suitable for families.

City MP is in the pink for charity

BY ADAM GRINSELL
adam.grinsell@mk-news.co.uk

PINK is the colour for one of the city's MPs as he starts to raise awareness for an important charity campaign.

MP for Milton Keynes South, Iain Stewart, has joined forces with Breast Cancer Campaign to make people aware of its biggest fundraising drive, 'wear it pink' day.

Schools, colleges and businesses across the country are being encouraged to don an item of pink, be it clothing or an accessory, in support of the campaign on Friday, October 28.

Each person who does so is also asked to donate £2 to fund innovative, world-class breast cancer research.

Last year, hundreds of thousands of people took part in wear it pink to help improve survival rates for the one in eight women who experience breast cancer in their lifetime. A huge £2million was raised for the cause.

Mr Stewart is getting involved because 40 women died from breast cancer in Milton Keynes in 2009 - 27 of them hadn't reached the age of 75.

He said: "This is sad, as every life is precious.

"Although it is rare, men can also suffer from breast cancer, with around 340 men in the UK diagnosed each year.

"I know people who have lost friends and family members to the disease and I would like to encourage everyone in the city to support wear it pink to raise valuable funds for breast cancer research."

To take part in the UK's original pink day, visit www.wearitpink.co.uk to register and receive a free fundraising pack.

Wear it pink is supported by Vanish, which has committed to raising £250,000 for the charity this year.

Grow your own veg to help poor

BY ADAM GRINSELL
adam.grinsell@mk-news.co.uk

A GLOBAL vegetable growing competition has been launched by a city-based charity.

The online contest, called Growing for Change, has been launched by international children's charity World Vision, based in Fox Milne.

The competition gives UK gardeners the chance to show off their home-grown efforts, which will then be judged by a panel in Bolivia later this year.

But the competition does have a serious ulterior motive - it is being run in an effort to raise awareness about child malnutrition in the Andes of Bolivia, South America's poorest country.

Figures from the government of Bolivia show 11,500 children die each year in the country due to causes related to malnutrition.

Vikki Meakin, from World Vision, said: "Growing your own vegetables isn't that easy if you live 15,000 feet up a mountain with no access to transport.

"Our Growing for Change vegetable contest is a bit of fun, with the serious aim of showing families in Bolivia that we care about the issue and that we'll join them in the fight to end generations of child malnutrition."

Gardeners have until the end of September to take a picture of the homegrown vegetable they are most proud of and upload it at www.worldvision.org.uk/grow. People in the UK will then vote for their favourite vegetable and the top ten will be judged by the expert growers in Bolivia, a panel living in a remote part of the Andes, in a district called Tacopaya.

The winner will be announced in October and will receive £500 of gardening tools, pots, seeds and plants from www.plantify.co.uk, with £500 going to a World Vision nutrition project.

Performing: Preeya Kalidas and Ramzi

BY ADAM GRINSELL
adam.grinsell@mk-news.co.uk

A WIDE and varied array of singers, dancers and other performers appeared on stage at Milton Keynes Theatre on Sunday in a four-hour spectacular.

DiverseArtsLive! entertained hundreds of people, with artists from around the world appearing with their differing talents to show the audience what they could do.

EastEnders actress Preeya Kalidas took time out from her busy schedule to show off her other talent - singing - and performed her new single It's A Problem.

International R'n'B star Ramzi wowed with acoustic performances, while dancers from Milton Keynes and the rest of the region demonstrated completely different forms of the art.

Bboy JMC displayed his skills in the acrobatic street dance 'bboying', while hip hop dance duo Fantastic Fusion, AKA Ceara and Brooke, joined forces with Kieran McEvaddy, who has self-taught his own dancing skills, for a special performance.

Others to appear on the night, who all went through rigorous auditions, included nine-year-old singer Lydia, and belly dancers Cairo Cats.

There are many traditions associated with marriage and weddings

A wedding in the past was seen as a time when people were very open to both bad luck and evil spirits. Many of these are variations of customs which began many centuries ago. Some, such as the bride wearing something old, something blue.... or not being seen by the groom in her wedding dress before the ceremony, are known throughout the country and many other parts of the world.

Others may be regional or even maintained within families from generation to generation. They are kept alive in the belief that they will bring good luck and happiness to a couple at a time when their lives are changing, hopefully for the better.

Your Wedding Day should be one of the most important days of your life. It takes months of careful planning and preparation. We have a selection of local companies who can help make your Wedding Day absolutely perfect.

MK BUSINESS

A tea company with bags of potential moves to city

THE company that supplies teabags to Buckingham Palace is moving its production to the city.

Despite all the economic doom and gloom, it seems the British public still like to keep calm and carry on with a cuppa.

That's the reason Hampstead Tea has moved to Milton Keynes with hopes to eventually be producing 100million tea bags every year.

The company, which produces Fairtrade organic teabags for Buckingham Palace and Harvey Nichols, as well as its own brand, has moved into a large premises in Kingston to ensure it can keep up with national and international demand.

Managing director Kiran Tawadey said: "At the end of the year we could be producing the equivalent of 100million bags per year.

"Demand is high - people can still afford a cup of tea, thank the Lord."

Hampstead Tea started up about 12 years ago and in 1998 won the Organic Food Award, which catapulted awareness of the brand and pushed up sales.

Selling in independent stores countrywide, the tea is also exported to 13 countries. To keep up with demand, the company opened the new production and distribution centre at the end of August, creating 12 new jobs.

Fancy a brew?: Hampstead Tea managing director Kiran Tawadey with her brand of Fairtrade organic tea bags

Ms Tawadey said: "Milton Keynes is convenient for access for transport, most of our staff live in the area and we really like the place itself - it's really nice and modern, in keeping with our image and brand."

Jonathan Whittle from Douglas Duff chartered surveyors, which helped the company find the premises, said: "In the search region, once again it was Milton Keynes that had the availability of new, high spec premises."

Bakery rises to the top in industry 'Oscar' award

A CITY bakery has won the national Supplier of the Year Award in the industry's equivalent of the Oscars.

Unifine Food and Bake Ingredients in Kiln Farm, which supplies ingredients to bakers throughout the UK, scooped the prestigious prize at the annual Baking Industry Awards 2011 at London's Park Lane Hilton on September 7.

The judges were particularly impressed with how the company, which employs 19 people and was bought by Dawn Foods in July, was strongly focused on serving its customers and bringing innovative new products to the market.

Celebrating the award, managing director Simon Solway said: "We go out of our way to support our customers. What they need really matters to us."

The annual Baking Industry Awards is the premier event in the UK bakery calendar and has been recognising industry excellence for 24 years.

Run by British Baker magazine, prizes are awarded across 12 categories.

Martyn Leek, editor of British Baker magazine, said: "Winners have to beat off stiff competition from around the country, so winning shows that they really are at the very top of their game."

MKNEWS BRIEFS

Menu aids calorie intake

DINERS at Harvester in Xscape have reduced their calorie intake by two per cent in six months.

The restaurant became one of the first in the UK to display nutritional information on its menu in March which has subsequently seen diners reduce intake by 25 calories per meal.

It is believed this two per cent reduction is due to a slight shift by customers from red meat dishes to white meat and fish, and changes in dessert choices.

Jewson pedals for charity

STAFF, suppliers and customers of builders' merchant Jewson, which has branches in Old Wolverton and Bletchley, will be peddling hard to raise money for children's charity Barnardo's with the aim of raising £20,000.

Starting on September 12 and running for two weeks, the Tour de Jewson is an annual cycling marathon seeing more than 170 cyclists taking part in legs from a number of start locations around the country, and eventually finishing in John O'Groats.

Tour de Jewson participants will cycle a gruelling 1,800 miles in total.

New business director

VOLKSWAGEN Financial Services (VWFS) in Tongwell has appointed Mike Todd as business development director starting on October 1.

Since joining VWFS in 2000, Mike has undertaken a number of roles including his most recent appointment as head of sales, where he was responsible for the delivery of business results through the leadership of the sales management team.

Restaurant group boosted

THE group behind Brasserie Blanc, which has a popular restaurant at Chelsea House on Avebury Boulevard, CMK, has raised £20million of new equity to expand its two proven concepts.

The investment will allow the group to develop new sites for its well established Brasserie Blanc brand and White Brasserie Company pub format over the next five years.

SIMON DARNELL

GENERIC UPBEAT POP SONG

Suitable For Male Pop Band Format

SEE, if those really were the names of the song and act involved, it would've saved me an awful lot of time explaining and you'd have known what you were going to get before you even heard the song.

But no, instead the song's called What Makes You Beautiful and the act is called One Direction.

Quite frankly, the name of the band matters not one jot; the singers sing in exactly the same way that boy bands have sung for the past ten to 15 years and they even stutter for effect at the same point in each verse regardless of which one of them's singing at the time.

See what I mean? It could've been anybody's name on the cover and it wouldn't make any difference.

The song itself is fairly standard, but it's got a similar riff to Summer Nights from Grease (kids, ask your parents, I've only got 400 words here) and there are few poppier songs than that.

Mind you, that said, as pop songs go it's not too bad - it's definitely at least three million times more fun to listen to than Matt Cardle's current slab of misery.

The problem is that you know exactly what you're going to get from start to finish, even to the point of predicting the chanty section in the middle.

I'm sure that it'll go down a storm when they inevitably play it at Wembley.

Usually, the problem I have with pop songs is that the singers are far better than the dross they've chosen or been told to sing, but on this occasion the song suffers because the band's individual personalities haven't been allowed to come through.

There are five of them, and yet they're all completely interchangeable. You might as well have had one bloke sing this and have done with it.

YOUR LOFT

Death In Vegas

ON THE other hand, there's this.

Seven-and-a-half minutes of chilled out joy, and although it could theoretically be condensed down into half that, a lot of what makes this song so good is the leisurely build-up.

In fact, things pick up so slowly it takes a full 90 seconds for the beat to kick in.

This song has a daft title, no argument there, but the song itself is utterly majestic.

Buddy - The Buddy Holly Story is coming to Milton Keynes Theatre

JOURNEY'S END

Until Saturday

MAYBE he thought it would be fun. Maybe he just wanted to do his bit.

Whatever it was that made 16-year-old Albert French of Wolverton lie about his age so he could enlist in the King's Royal Rifle Corps, the consequence could not have been more tragic as he would not live to see his 17th birthday.

BUDDY - THE BUDDY HOLLY STORY

Monday -Saturday, October 1.

THERE have been many imitations, but the original and best is back!

The world's most successful rock 'n' roll musical, Buddy returns to Milton Keynes Theatre.

Fifty years ago, the man who changed the face of popular music tragically died in a plane crash aged just 22.

A multi-talented cast come together to tell Buddy Holly's story, from his meteoric rise to fame to his final legendary performance at The Surf Ballroom in Clear Lake, Iowa.

The show features more than 20 of Buddy's greatest hits, including Peggy Sue, That'll Be The Day, Oh Boy, Rave On, Heartbeat and Raining In My Heart.

With the Big Bopper's Chantilly Lace and Ritchie Valens' La Bamba completing a stellar musical line-up, Buddy is still a not to be missed evening of family entertainment that will have you toe tapping, hand clapping and rocking in the aisles.

Now, 40,000 'Oh Boys!' since it first opened in London's West End, Buddy is in its 22nd year of paying tribute to the musical genius whose untimely death was immortalised in Don McLean's American Pie as 'the Day the Music Died.'

MK GALLERY

SHOWCASE 2011 is a series of eight, week-long exhibitions presenting work by local students and fine art graduates in MK Gallery Project Space.

This week we take a look at the work of Ben Cavers, a recent graduate of Buckingham Chiltern University College.

London-based Cavers makes site specific constructions exploring the process of painting and the history of painting and display.

This is a process which often leads to chance or serendipitous results which the artist finds surprising and inspiring. Cavers' showcase runs from Friday until September 29.

Tomorrow, the free Scratch Nights is showing Elly Clarke's Moscow to Beijing from 6.45pm.

In September 2005, Elly was invited to participate in a mobile conference that was taking place on the Trans Siberian train.

To learn more about the countries and cultures the train was passing through Clarke conducted interviews with passengers she met from Russia, Mongolia and China. With no knowledge of these languages, she used pre-written cue cards for communication and gave everyone she interviewed a disposable camera to record their trip.

Work by Ben Cavers will be on display at MK Gallery from Friday

On return to London, Clarke then sourced speakers of these languages to interpret the video footage she had gathered - and videoed them doing this.

This week Friday Night Films is showing The Picture of Dorian Gray, selected by Showcase 2011 exhibitor Sarah Kay, at 6.30pm.

London aristocrat Dorian Gray determines he will remain handsome and young. Gradually he becomes the embodiment of virtually every sin known to man, with the greatest of his sins being vanity.

Tickets £5 (concessions £3), prebook on 01908 676900.

CHRYSALIS THEATRE, WILLEN

BLACKADDER (THE THIRD)

Until Saturday

FROM the company that brought Fawlty Towers to the stage, Milton Keynes Theatre of Comedy returns with its much awaited production of three episodes of the classic TV hit, Blackadder.

A stupid Prince George, a scheming butler, an incompetent and turnip-obsessed dogs-body, Mrs Miggins and her pie shop and, of course, several cunning plans.

Thrill to the exploits of devilish Highwayman 'The Shadow'.

Swoon at Baldrick's trousers versus the French revolutionaries.

Literally widdle your drawers at the drama of rewriting the dictionary.

Tickets cost £10.50. To book, or to find out more information, visit the Milton Keynes Theatre of Comedy website - www.mktoc.co.uk.

BOW BRICKHILL PAVILION

SLEEK Dance Milton Keynes is looking for people to be a part of a public performance, Flash Mob MK, next year.

Rehearsal sessions are running on Tuesday evenings for the next three months at the Bow Brickhill Pavilion, Rushmere Close, Bow Brickhill.

Those taking part will learn dance moves to a medley of hits from the 70s right up to the latest chart toppers, while raising funds for Save the Children.

Profits from organisers, Sleek Dance, will go towards a new campaign No Child Born to Die, which aims to dramatically cut the number of youngsters under the age of five dying from simple conditions such as pneumonia and diarrhoea.

Save the Children says if youngsters were routinely vaccinated, the death toll, which currently sits at eight million a year, could be cut by up to a quarter.

UK celebrities including Alexandra Burke, Natasha Kaplinksy and Martin Clunes have all pledged their support for the life-saving new campaign.

Leigh West of Sleek Dance said: "I'm really delighted to be raising funds for such a worthwhile cause.

"Thousands of children are dying every day from easily preventable illnesses like tummy bugs, things that kids here get all the time. It was this simple fact that inspired me to get involved with Save the Children.

"I know the money we raise during dance sessions and on the day of the Flash Mob really will make a difference."

Classes are at 6.30-7.15pm for children, 7.15-8.15pm for adults and 8.30-9.30pm for Flash Mob.

Each costs £5 and further details are available at www.sleekdance.com or www.savethechildren.org.uk/bornto.

HEART FM COLUMN

HEART breakfast show presenters Stuart and Natalie wake you up each weekday morning and write to you each week in MK NEWS.

What an exciting time we had with Alexandra Burke at our new studios - hope you enjoyed reading all about it in last week's paper.

We caught up with Martin Clunes on the show, as the new series of Doc Martin is back on our screens.

He was talking about the number of babies they have to work with on set, did you know a baby can have up to 12 stand-ins.

Martin had a giggle working out which of our list of celebs would wear Dr Marten boots - saying that he thought Lady Gaga would be a fan.

Another lovely lady who has joined us on the show is 'Earth Mother' Mylene Klass.

She's juggling being a mum with all sorts, there's her book Bump and Me and she's got a web series Bump, Baby and Beyond coming soon.

So we wanted to test her pregnancy demands, such as, did she burst into tears when she realised her nursery curtains were the wrong colour?

"No, because I have my own range, so you can't go wrong," she said. Now if that's not a showbiz answer we don't know what is.

"Spaghetti bolognaise was something I demanded at 3am while pregnant," Mylenne giggled.

"Even when I couldn't see my feet or tie my shoes I still met my girlfriends, as I'd just slide my feet in my shoes and off I'd go."

Don't forget we need you on the Big Town Showdown to show you are the cleverest town.

So far Bletchley is at the bottom of our leader board on 120 seconds and Bidwell is at the top with 52.3 seconds.

There's an amazing prize to be won, so get involved!

Stuart and Natalie present Heart Breakfast Monday to Friday from 6-10am on 103.3FM.

Assistant Director – Development Management 18th September 2011

THE COUNCIL OF THE BOROUGH OF MILTON KEYNES
(REDWAY (PART) ADJACENT TO THE V6 GRAFTON STREET, WINTERHILL)
(TEMPORARY CLOSURE) ORDER 2011

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the Council of the Borough of Milton Keynes intends, in not less than seven days from the date of this notice, to make an Order under Section 14(1) of the Road Traffic Regulation Act 1984. Its effect will be to temporarily prohibit all access along that length of redway that runs adjacent to the west side of the V6 Grafton Street at Winterhill from its junction with Grampian Gate, Winterhill for a distance of approximately 300 metres in a south easterly direction.

The Council is satisfied that the temporary closure is necessary because of works being carried out, namely resurfacing works on the redway. It is anticipated the temporary closure will take place from Monday 3rd October 2011 until Friday 28th October 2011, inclusive. The redway may open sooner if the works are completed ahead of schedule.

The restrictions will be in force on the dates and at the times shown when indicated by the appropriate traffic signs.

The alternative route for access will be via the redway running parallel with the H7 Chaffron Way in a south westerly direction for a distance of approximately 500 metres, then turn right onto National Cycle Route 51, proceed to the junction where the leisure route links National Cycle Route 51 with Redland Drive, Loughton, continue on this leisure route in a westerly direction for approximately 160 metres, then turn right onto the redway running parallel with the H6 Childs Way, continue along this redway for approximately 500 metres in a north easterly direction to rejoin the original redway and vice versa.

There will be no exemptions from the provisions of this Order.

The proposed Order will come into operation on Monday 3rd October 2011 and will continue in force for a maximum period of 6 months or until the works are completed, which ever is the sooner. If the works are not completed within the maximum period stated, a further Order may be made with the consent of the Secretary of State.

Any person committing a breach of the Order will be liable upon prosecution to such fine as is prescribed by the Road Traffic Regulation Act 1984.

Dated: 21st September 2011

The titles of these Orders are recited at the end of this Notice and will have the following effects: -

1. The removal of all references to both "Milton Keynes Sustainable Transport Limited" and "Car Share Permit Club" within the car share Orders and replaced with the wording "Milton Keynes Council" - this reflects the change in management of the scheme.
2. The removal of exemptions for Blue Badge Holders parking in Car Share permit parking places except within the car share bays located on North Eighth Street, during the prescribed hours on Saturdays and Sundays.
3. To amend an item description given in Schedule 1 Part B of the 2005 Order, which incorrectly described the area of carriageway affected by that Order in relation to some car share bays located on Avebury Boulevard.
4. ∫To revoke an item from Schedule 1 of the 2004 Order, which was incorrectly inserted when that Order was made, the effect of which will be to reflect the existing on-street parking provisions in South Tenth Street.

The Orders will take effect from the 22nd September 2011.

The classes of vehicles affected by the Orders are passenger vehicles, dual-purpose vehicles, goods vehicles, disabled persons' vehicles, mopeds and motorcycles. Exemptions from some of the Orders include: emergency service vehicles, statutory undertakers, loading and unloading, building, demolition and excavation and some others.

Copies of the Orders as made may be inspected during opening hours at Milton Keynes Library, 555 Silbury Boulevard, Central Milton Keynes and during normal office hours at Milton Keynes Council, Civic Offices, 1 Saxon Gate East, Milton Keynes. Please quote reference P&E/1771/TRO/3985/WL.

Any person wishing to question the validity of the Orders or any provision contained in the Orders on the grounds that it is not within the powers conferred by the Road Traffic Regulation Act, or on the grounds that any requirement of the Act or any Instrument made under the Act has not been complied with may, within six weeks from the date on which the Orders were made, apply to the High Court for that purpose.

Company or lease car returns ...

Refurbishing your fleet vehicles can save you big time. The cost of repairs from Finishing Touch is a fraction of what you could very well end up paying in penalties for returning damaged vehicles to your leasing agent / fleet provider.
Our approach to fleet repair work is simple - restore vehicles to meet the guidelines laid out in your Fleet Wear and Tear documentation so you avoid penalty fees

F1nishing Touch - Crash repair centre in Milton Keynes, Bucks

Looking for affordable repairs to your vehicle in the Milton Keynes /Buckinghamshire region?
Want high-quality workmanship with quick and friendly service from the local team with more than 30 years' combined experience? Welcome to Finishing Touch ...

MK SUNDAY LEAGUE

MK United and Stantonbury Social B are through to the second round of the Berks and Bucks Sunday Junior Trophy with MK Utd beating Buckingham Utd 4-3 and Stantonbury winning through 5-4 on penalties after a thrilling 3-3 draw against MK Legends.

Punjab Utd went down 5-3 to Longwick Sports Club and New City Saints lost 4-0 against Elm Farm Reserves.

In the Premier League, Stony Stratford Town kicked off their season with a hard fought 3-1 win against Stantonbury Social A with goals from Grubb, White and Wing.

Great Mile Ash lead the way with a 7-0 win against Loughton Athletic, although Willen are hot on their heels as they kept up their perfect start to the season with a hard fought 3-2 win against Trade 2U with goals from Bedford, Meale and Williams.

Other results: Premier Division: Open University 3 Kings Arms 4; CS Athletic 1 FC Lifesearch 1.

The only game in Division 1 saw FC MMIX win 2-1 against AFC Santander.

FC MMIX took an early lead but Santander managed to pull it back with a coolly taken penalty from Carl Ware.

But AFC then let in a late goal which gave FC MMIX the victory 2-1.

MK Dons assistant manager JOHN GORMAN writes exclusively for MK NEWS every week

WE'VE had a lot of injuries recently and the physios have had to do a lot of work to help get people fit.

They've had a lot to do and for them it's not just Monday to Friday, it's Saturday and Sunday too.

There's no rest for Simon and Adam and they deserve to get a special mention because they do a lot of work behind the scenes which nobody knows about.

It's the same with scout Paul Mitchell who travels the country on his own.

On Monday we did something a bit different and took the players for a walk around Willen Lake.

We did the same last year and some of the players still trained afterwards – I took the squad who didn't play on Saturday along with Mark Beevers and Gary MacKenzie and they trained fully again.

The walk helps with the team spirit and it is something that has worked for us in the past.

Some of the other players needed a rest, including Luke Chadwick who played his heart out on Saturday.

He ran himself into the ground and gave everything, including a diving header off the line.

We do have a thin squad but everybody is together, it was nice after the Huddersfield game to see every single player who didn't play there with us.

There are so many good players who couldn't play but they were all in there lending their support.

Mathias Doumbe travelled to Burnley and is back training with us again, which is another major boost, and that's credit to the physios again.

Huddersfield are a very good team and considering the amount of things that went against us before Saturday, with the injury situation, we were very proud of the boys in the second half.

It's all about the second half if I'm being honest, you can be brilliant, like we've done many times, in the first half, but often it's the second half which counts.

We came out in front of our own fans who really got behind us in the second half and we gave them something to shout about.

In the end I think we thoroughly deserved a point – it was a good draw and you don't say that often.

George Baldock was particulary impressive as Dons fall short

Heartbreak for young Dons

take the lead with barely five minutes on the clock.

A passing move of obvious quality involving several players finished with Bowditch teeing up Dan Powell, who finished with composure past Lee Grant.

Dons had started with real confidence against their higher league opponents, with their passing brand of football on full display, and if Powell hadn't scuffed wide a shooting opportunity in the box the lead could have been doubled.

Robinson's men were well on top in the first 20 minutes but Burnley gradually found a foothold in the game, winning a number of set pieces in dangerous positions towards the end of the half.

The Clarets had a good chance when Dean Lewington's mistake let in Dean Marney out wide, but Jay Rodriguez was unable to connect sweetly when the cross was swung into the box.

At the other end's Dean Bowditch's curling drive wasn't too far away from sneaking in at the far post, and Rodriguez then collected a corner before poking a shot narrowly wide of the upright.

On the stroke of half-time Rodriguez wasted a free header by glancing the ball straight into Martin's arms, and Powell's close range shot following a goal-mouth scramble was superbly stopped by Grant.

Burnley came out of the blocks fast in the second half and only Luke Chadwick's goal-line clearance prevented Rodriguez's header from immediately squaring the match.

The Championship club had clearly received a rollicking at half-time as they started with a purpose, but Dons weathered the initial spell of pressure and nearly hit the Clarets with a sucker punch.

Ibehre took advantage of a defensive mix-up to race through on goal but his shot was tipped away by a diving Grant.

Powell arrived to pick up the scraps but Brian Easton bravely threw himself in front of the ball as the winger tried to double the lead.

There was action at both ends in what had turned into a cracking cup tie, but Martin still hadn't been seriously tested in the Dons goal.

Indeed, Burnley needed a set-piece to level the match on 59 minutes.

Chadwick was penalised for handball and Kieran Trippier bent the resulting free-kick over the wall and into the net at Martin's right post.

The equaliser lifted the hosts who were much improved after the break and now looked increasingly dangerous

Dons needed Chicksen's goal-line clearance and a superb block by Flanagan, who charged down sub Charlie Austin's effort, to keep the scores level as Burnley piled forward in search of a winner.

But Dons reminded the home side of their presence when Anthony McNamee's long range effort took a deflection and forced Grant to make a save.

And Bowditch was then inches away from heading Baldock's cross, which followed a superb run, into the back of the net for a late winner.

There were some excellent performances by those in white shirts, with youngsters Flanagan and Baldock particularly impressive.

They deserved more, but it wasn't to be and Amougou's late acrobatics proved to be a cruel finale.

For a match gallery see the MK NEWS website tomorrow.

Dean Lewington celebrates his leveller with Shaun Williams

Injury crisis could mean further loans

DONS will attempt to bring in new faces on loan if the club's current injury crisis worsens.

Karl Robinson's squad is currently being stretched to the limit and he won't hesitate to make a temporary swoop if any more players become available.

Long term absentees Mathias Doumbe and Jay O'Shea were still missing from Saturday's 1-1 home draw with Huddersfield, and were joined on the sidelines by Angelo Balanta and Charlie MacDonald who have also picked up knocks.

On-loan full-back Adam Smith then limped out of the game and Robinson said that midfielders Stephen Gleeson and Darren Potter, who were on the receiving end of rash challenges last week at Sheffield Wednesday, were not really fit enough to have started.

"If it continues in the vein it has then the Chairman will be fully supportive of me bringing in fresh faces," Robinson said. "We'll see what's round the next corner with that one."

Huddersfield dominated the first half of the weekend's clash between third and fourth in League One but a strike from Scott Arfield, who pounced after Alan Lee's header had struck a post, was all that they had to show for their efforts.

Dons were resurgent in the second half and skipper Dean Lewington smashed home a leveller after Gary MacKenzie's header had been brilliantly palmed away by Ian Bennett.

However, the Terriers wasted a golden chance to win the game late on after a moment of madness from MacKenzie, who clashed with Lee in the box and leant in with his head.

Referee Chris Foy sent the Scotsman off and awarded Huddersfield a penalty, but David Martin rescued a point with a smart save from Lee Novak's spot kick.

MacKenzie now faces a three match ban, adding to the Dons on the sidelines, and will be disciplined internally by the club.

Robinson took the blame for the under par first half performance, admitting that he had 'got it wrong'.

But he was proud of the second half display which salvaged a point against one of the favourites for the title.

He said: "Darren Potter and Stephen Gleeson shouldn't have played today, medically they weren't fit. It's unbelievable, but today was a point in the right direction."

One player linked with the club is Sheffield Wednesday forward Clinton Morrison, who appears to have fallen out of favour in Hillsborough.

Robinson has admitted that he is a fan of the player, but denied that talks had begun.

Dons could be priced out of a move for the 32-year-old forward.

BASKETBALL

Lions were top choice for Bolds

MK LIONS saw off competition from a host of British and European clubs to bring back star man Demarius Bolds, but for the 6'4" guard there was only one place he wanted to be.

Retaining Bolds was a key target for coach Mike New this summer and at one stage it seemed as if the Lions would not get their man.

Some superb displays in the British Basketball League (BBL) last season had put Bolds in the shop window and some had resigned themselves to not seeing him in a Lions vest again.

But the American player knew where he hoped to play during the 2011/12 season.

Speaking exclusively to MK NEWS, he said: "I was planning on coming back to the Lions the whole time. I'm really excited to be back."

Bolds now has silverware on his mind ahead of the new campaign, which begins with a BBL Trophy match-up away to Leicester Riders on October 1.

It'll be the same opposition and competition for the first home clash at MK Lions arena, which will take place on October 7 with a 7.30pm start.

New has assembled a fresh looking squad and some of the new recruits were in action on Friday night when Lions fell to a narrow 80-76 friendly loss to touring American side Team USA Select.

Recent signings Nuno Pedroso, Nathan Schall and Adrien Sturt all had time on the court with Sturt in particular looking like an excellent addition.

Lions stormed out of the blocks and led 33-19 after the first quarter, and they held onto the lead deep into the fourth.

However, the side tired and Lions were pipped at the post by their guests.

Bolds, who had flown in from America on the day of the game, was impressive and has taken to his new team-mates.

Demarius Bolds

He said: "We've added some new players and it looks like we've got a really good team, I definitely think we'll be challenging for trophies.

"My legs were hurting a little bit at the end of the game but it's looking good."

New signing Carl Josey missed the Team USA game with a thigh strain and Lions were also without two other recruits, American imports Howard Crawford and Daniel Northern.

Both players have now arrived in the UK to give Lions a boost ahead of the new campaign.

Meanwhile, BBL side Essex Pirates, who were in the Lions' BBL Trophy group, have been withdrawn from the league for financial reasons.

London Leopards have been brought into the Trophy group instead.

ICE HOCKEY

Lightning ready for first Ashes face-off

COMPETITIVE ice hockey returns to the city on Saturday and MK Lightning have revenge on their mind.

Nick Poole's men will start their season by attempting to take back the Ashes which were narrowly lost to rivals Peterborough Phantoms last season.

The two legged-affair precedes the league season and begins with the home leg at Planet Ice on Saturday, with a 7pm face off.

Lightning had a good time of it against the Phantoms on their own ice last season, but they were unable to get the better of them on their own patch, something Poole hopes to put right.

MK took a 5-4 lead into the second leg last year but slipped to defeat in game two to lose 7-6 on aggregate.

Poole said: "Reclaiming the Ashes would obviously be a great way to prepare for the start of the league season.

"We fell a little short at the Phantoms' barn last year, but we've strengthened and freshened up our roster over the summer, and we know where we went wrong last season and we'll be working hard to cut out the mistakes this year.

"We have an awesome level of support especially at our home rink, and the Ashes games give our supporters the chance to help fire us up for the season to come – and the team get the chance to get into top gear in time for starting our league push next week.

"We're all looking forward to hearing our fans in full voice again and putting down a marker for the season to come."

The away leg in Peterborough will take place on Sunday, a day after the clash in Milton Keynes.

Two former Lightning skaters, who left for Peterborough, had their equipment burnt to create the ashes which the teams are playing for.

Peterborough have retained nine of the players they had on board last year, but have also lost a number of squad members who had key roles to play in last year's campaign.

Lightning have retained a large number of players who narrowly lost to Guildford Flames in the EPL play-off final, and have also welcomed new boys Tom Norton and former NHL draft pick Juraj Gracik.

SPORTSSHORTS

RUGBY UNION

Milton Keynes 50 Malborough 0

MK ROMPED to a crushing victory in their first home league match of the season.

Wayne Kelly and Dan Rolfe both scored two tries each and Neil Haynes, Dan Edwards, Andrew Poole and Ash Hill also went over to complete the bonus point win.

The MK pack was dominant throughout the game on a day when wind played havoc with the kicking.

Witney 22 Bletchley 16

BLETCHLEY went down to a narrow defeat to Witney at the weekend.

Neither side scored until the 28 minute mark when Phil Harman's penalty put the visitors into the lead.

However, that kicked Witney into gear and the hosts ran in a try shortly afterwards through Carl Strutt, before two more Harman kicks saw Bletchley retake the lead.

Witney stormed in front with a penalty and a try of their own, and Josh Peters then went over for the visitors to make the score just 17-16 to the hosts.

However, Witney ran in their third try to make sure of their win in a close contest.

HOCKEY

MK Ladies 1sts 6 Leighton Buzzard 1

MK LADIES cruised to a friendly win ahead of Saturday's league opener.

Sophie Reynolds put MK ahead until Leighton levelled before half-time.

A formation change after the break saw MK come out firing and three further goals from skipper Reynolds, plus strikes from Kate Cash and Sarah Lowry, sealed the emphatic win.

The men's first team successfully defended the Bucks Cup tournament, with five wins out of five against Slough, Wycombe, Aylesbury, Marlow and South Bucks.

MK scored a superb 22 goals and let in just one during 150 minutes of hockey.

TOURING CARS

NEWPORT Pagnell ace James Nash notched up his first win in the British Touring Car Championship at Rockingham on Sunday.

Nash, in his Vauxhall for Triple Eight Race Engineering, stormed to victory in the third race of the day after finishing ninth and sixth in the first two races respectively.

He said: "It's about time. The third race was quite tough. I had a vibration to contend with for the last six or seven laps.

"It was a tyre wall and I was thinking that the tyre might blow at any second. Thankfully though it lasted the race but it was definitely on its last legs at the end."
